

ISMA Message Board Policy and User Agreement

The purpose of this message board is to allow members to voice their opinions about the 2014 House of Delegates resolutions. You must be an ISMA member to contribute to the message board. All users must agree with these terms and conditions. If you do not agree, you may not access the message board. Use of the message board constitutes your acceptance of this agreement.

This is a complimentary service to ISMA members. The ISMA reserves the right to change this policy at any time without notice to you. You must comply with the current version. The ISMA may preserve and disclose content if required to do so by law or if believed necessary.

The ISMA reserves the right, but is not obligated, to delete or edit content that is not relevant or violates the language or intent of this agreement. Blatant or repeat violations may subject the user to further disciplinary action by the ISMA.

The user who posted the information, not the ISMA or its staff, hereby assumes sole responsibility for all risks and liabilities of the content. You may not use the message board in any of the ways described below, whether knowing, intentional or inadvertent. Do not:

- Post any content that infringes any trademark, trade secret, patent, copyright or other proprietary or confidentiality rights of any party
- Post solicitation of any kind
- Post content that may contain a computer virus or may harm the software or hardware of other users or the ISMA
- Post content that is abusive, harmful, harassing, defamatory, vulgar, obscene, libelous, invasive of other's privacy or that is racially or ethnically charged
- Post content suggesting or in furtherance of a conspiracy or other antitrust-related activity, including, but not limited to, providing or collecting data concerning compensation or reimbursement, or encouraging contract termination or boycotts
- Impersonate another person or entity or misrepresent an affiliation to any entity, including posting messages if you are not a member of the ISMA
- Manipulate content so its origin and accuracy cannot be verified
- Violate any local, state, national or international laws
- Provide or collect personal data about other users

By posting content, you agree the information is non-confidential and that the content becomes and remains the property of the ISMA, thus granting the ISMA all rights to reproduce the content in any way without royalty or credit to the user. Content on this site cannot be used without permission from the ISMA. The user may print a single copy for personal, noncommercial use if it does not present any harm to the ISMA.

The content on the message board, or linked thereto, does not reflect the opinion of ISMA and is not endorsed by the ISMA. All content on this site is monitored by the ISMA staff; however, the ISMA is not responsible for the validity, accuracy, completeness or usefulness of any information presented. Anyone who finds any any post objectionable may contact the ISMA Communications Department by calling (800) 257-4762 or (317) 261-2060.